

Be Free of Hep C

Get tested. Get treated. Get cured.

Choose your starting point to help clients get tested, treated and cured

Do your clients know enough about hep C?

We've never been so close to the ultimate goal of elimination. It starts with sharing the right information.

Share hep C information with every client, at every visit

Elimination is a big goal, but everyone has a part to play. Changing the things you can, however small, makes a huge difference. This is your centre, and elimination of HCV begins here.

Lead the way by setting your centre an elimination goal

Organise a training event to upskill your team's testing knowledge, so your centre is prepared to get clients tested at their next visit. You can be the key to your client's cure.

Upskill your knowledge and get your clients tested
